SOUTHERN EMIGRATION—DISTRESS IN THE SOUTH.

It is a sad reflection upon an occasion that among us and at the North is marked by joy and festivity, so great distress exists at the South. With the latter, the elements of enjoyment, as is usual on Christmas occasions, are withdrawn. Hunger looks numbers of men in the face like gaunt wolves. The great effort of the tyrants in Congress to raise the negro race to a supremacy over white men has excited such terror on the one hand and false hopes on the other, that industry has been paralyzed, and production has been next to nothing. The whites, it is true, have essayed that labor to which many have not been used, while the body of the working class—the negroes—have produced comparatively nothing.—There had been hope of a returning margin or edge of prosperity through the cotton crop, but it has proved a "mockery, delusion, and snare." As politics has been the pabulum of the negroes of the South for the past two years, with continually diminishing labor, and, of course, production on their part; and as there is a certainty that material affairs will be still worse the next year, the future is black indeed to the oppressed white man of the South. Those usually welcome festive occasions, Christmas and New Year's, with intervening days, will scarcely serve more than to recall the joys of the past.

"Pleasant, yet melancholy to the soul"

Unquestionably, thousands upon thousands of the poor, in localities remote from cities, and, perhaps, in them, will languish, and sicken, and die for want of sufficient nourishing food. If the holidays, which are so few, as compared with long months without crops, are to be a gloomy period, without usual festivities, what may not be expected of suffering and want in ensuing protracted periods? Is it not certain that famine will visit the homes of the poor whites and blacks, in numerous localities?

"Oh! the famine and the fever;
Oh! the wasting of the famine;
Oh! the blasting of the fever;
Oh! the wailing of the children;
Oh! the anguish of the women;
All the earth was sick and famished;
Hungry was the air around them;
Hungry was the sky above them;
And the hungry star in Heaven,
Like the eyes of wolves glared at them."

The usurping Congress that renewed war upon the South after the generals of the army had conquered peace; which set the speculators of the Freedmen's Bureau over a people who, blacks included, are disgusted with its outrages; which established that law at the cannon's mouth, and under dragoons' sabres, which infracted not only the political institutions and laws of States, but also their habits and customs; which has armed the former servile blacks, and disarmed the whites; which is establishing the supremacy of blacks over whites by the wholesale disfranchisement of the latter; which contemplates the representation of the South by blacks, or their political white masters—the usurping Congress, we repeat, which has been guilty of these atrocities, whereby everything like hope of stability in the South has been destroyed, and with it the needed uses of capital or of labor for purposes of production, finds itself under an obligation, not to be overlooked, of making a monstrous appropriation to supply food at the places whence cries of want do now, and will hereafter come up, long and loud, in the ears of the Congressional demons of cruel misrule and oppression. The latter cannot evade the responsibility that devolves upon them from their infamous acts, neither this year nor the year to come. After that term has expired the Conservative element will have triumphed at the polls, and the stupendous fabric of Radical folly and crime will be hurled to the earth. In this confident hope or belief we unhesitatingly endorse the just views of the Louisville Journal, as to the flying from distress of the Southern people. We quote:

"We regret to see from the Southern papers that a great many persons are emigrating from portions of that section on account of the disgust which they feel at the hard and oppressive governments imposed on them, and the general condition of things throughout their respective communities. If matters are so wretchedly bad that they cannot possibly live where they have hitherto passed their lives, if the curse of absolute starvation is upon them and their families, of course they are right to make their escape from an intolerable situation; but we do hope, for their own sake and the country's, that they will remain where they are, if it is possible. Whatever of strength and influence they possess is sorely needed in the South, and the time may not be far off when it will be needed yet more sorely. Let them, if they can, stand to their critical posts in the midst of all the evils that are upon them and all the perils that threaten them. We do not believe that there is as yet a necessity for their surrendering up their beautiful and glorious region to negroes and worse than negroes.

"Dark signs undoubtedly fill the Southern air, but there is yet hope for that unhappy section. Nay, there is almost a certainty that time, and, perhaps, a short time, may bring relief. The late vast political revolution holds out brilliant promises of a future infinitely better than the present. Let our Southern friends await that future in the vigorous and brave discharge of all their great duties. No matter what the Radicals of the country may do or attempt, the Federal Government, in all its departments, is destined to pass into the hands of the Conservatives, and, when that inevitable destiny shall be fulfilled, the evil work done by the Radical party in the South will be undone at all hazards, so far as it possibly can be. Of course, no legislation, however wise and energetic, will at once avail to repair the wide-spread ruin and desolation, but everything will yet be placed upon a solid basis of statesmanship, and then prosperity, universal prosperity, will come in its own good time. Nothing in the future is more certain and more cheering than this."

Prentice thinks Grant ought to act horse as well as talk horse, by kicking politicians out of his presence.

Madame Demorest gave a paper dress masquerade on Christmas Eve, at which the costumes comprehended the most curious freaks of fashion during the last 300 years.

The World advises that unhappy gentleman, Wendell Phillips, to take a couple of blue pills and a dose of rhubard, and prepare to "vote for a Democratic candidate for the Presidency next fall."

THE NEW ENGLAND DINNER—YANKEE GREATNESS.

Self assertion is the disease of the New England type of civilization; and the annual carnival of Yankee glorification indulged at the New England dinner, and which occurred on Monday night, did not fall behind its predecessors of former years in windy laudation of all that the Down Easter calls his own—rightfully or wrongfully. We were told that the Yankee ran to brains, believed in the supremacy of brain, and had so developed it as to breed "a race of thinkers not second to the Athenian." We may agree with the orator that these Down East thinkers are "not second to the Athenian." They are not—nor third, neither; nor fourth, nor fiftieth. They are, indeed, so far away from the intellect which they assume as their type that the richest of New England thinkers will palm off as a fine banquet the crumbs he pilfers from an Athenian feast. We are told that the Puritans "believed from the time they landed on Plymouth Rock that the most valuable part of a man as God created him was his brains;" yet the world knows well that under these same men there was no crime so great as for a man to think and express has thoughts, and he did it at the risk of having his tongue torn from his mouth with hot pincers; not that hot ones would do it better than cold, but the heat seemed to give a fine vehemence of horror to the act. Boasters are always those who have least that they may rightly boast on, and it is thus with boasting, self-glorifying New England. Stripped of all that it has stolen from others and spoiled in attempted adaptation, New England is the poorest of all lands on the face of the earth in every sphere of intellectual labor. It boasts itself of literature without a single work of imagination that can by any stretch of courtesy be called great. In art it has Trumbull and his pictures, and the Bunker Hill Monument, built on such a plan that will enable future generations to utilize it as a distiller's flue. And this is brain. In the number of public men of the present day New England contributes such pedigies of mental endowment as Sumner, Beecher, Wendell Phillips, Lloyd Garrison and Neal Dow—all noisy enough, no doubt; but where is the vein of greatness? In what possible theory can it be claimed that any of of them is great otherwise than a nuisance? New England is fertile in trouble—in fanatical endeavors to force its small notions on others—and this is mistaken for greatness because sometimes it has terrible results. Such terrible results of New England fanaticism are now to be seen throughout the South, where a whole people is reduced to starvation; and they who glorify Yankee fame would better further it just now if they would modestly hold their tongue and spend their superfluous energy in the effort to feed the victims of their tremendous errors.—New York Herald.

RAILROADS.

IMPORTANT TO CAROLINA SHIPPERS.

THE NEW
Baltimore and Carolina Grand Trunk
FREIGHT LINE,
VIA PETERSBURG, VA.,
Comprising the following great Freight Routes:

THE POWHATAN
Steamboat Company's Freight Line of Steamers,
PETERSBURG AND WELDON,
RALEIGH AND GASTON,
NORTH CAROLINA,
WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA,
WILMINGTON AND WELDON,
ATLANTIC AND NORTH CAROLINA,
WILMINGTON AND MANCHESTER,
CHARLOTTE AND SOUTH CAROLINA R. R.,
And their connections.

Time Quick and Rates Low.

THIS NEW TRUNK LINE FORMS A GREAT FREIGHT ROUTE between Baltimore and Weldon, Warrenton, Raleigh, Hillsboro, Lexington, Salisbury, Morganton, Charlotte, Lincolnton, Goldsboro', Newbern, Beaufort, Wilmington, Chesterville, Winnsboro', Columbia, Summerville, Manchester, and all intermediate points on and near these great Railways and their connections.

The Powhatan Steamers connect at Petersburg with Petersburg Railway for all points in the Carolinas. Cars are run alongside of Steamers' Wharf and goods transferred with careful handling. Cars are run through without breaking bulk between Petersburg and Raleigh, Charlotte, Goldsboro', Wilmington, &c. &c. This Inland Line possesses many advantages over a Sea Route. Marine risk is small and insurance in comparatively nothing. The Wharf of the Powhatan Steamers being situated in the very centre of the great shipping district of Baltimore, renders it convenient to shippers, and drayage is very small.

Great attention paid to consignments of Cotton, Corn, Wheat, Rosin, &c. &c. All produce forwarded at the lowest possible rates.

☞ To insure transportation over this Inland Fast Line, mark all goods, whether Northward or Southward bound, "Via Petersburg."

☞ Freight landed in Baltimore day following delivery to the Steamers.

Through Receipts are given and fixed rate per 100 pounds guaranteed both ways

☞ Rates in every case same as via Bay Line and Portsmouth to and from Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

N B.—With regard to last named points, freight is forwarded to and from Petersburg by Philadelphia and N. Y. Steamers.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, } SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 26, 1867.

THE COMING YEAR.

The agricultural labors of the past year have been especially disastrous in the cotton planting and lower sections of this State. Where the lands were liable to be affected by the heavy rains of last spring and summer, enough bread has not been made. In the rich corn lands of the East there has been almost an entire failure, yet we do not despair that our people will be able to survive.

Large numbers of cotton planters will not be able to plant largely the coming year.—The making of corn will not require as large a force, and hence large numbers of laborers will find it difficult to secure employment. The low price of turpentine and naval stores will also probably reduce the force employed in that business. But still, if our people, black and white, will go to work with a will, they may be able to recover somewhat from the disasters of the past.

The surplus force that is not required in the cultivation of cotton, corn or turpentine, in all the counties east of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, might be profitably employed, if they would work as men ought to work, in getting Express Shingles, ton-timber, &c., and, in all the counties as high up as Orange, where white and red oak timber is abundant, a very profitable business might be done in getting pipe, hogshead and barrel staves and heading. Staves are always in demand and are ready cash. If the Railroads would aid this business, as we think they will, thousands of men, who cannot be otherwise more profitably employed, could succeed well in getting staves. With very little instruction any common hand could soon make wages in this business, and the large quantities of oak timber, that are now destroyed, could be made to contribute largely to the business of the country. It is important to success that the timber be used as convenient to the Railroads as possible, so as to avoid the heavy expense of hauling any great distance. We have known poor families supported well, who employed the winters in getting staves, when they were compelled to haul a hundred staves twenty or thirty miles to market. There is money in the stave business properly followed, even as high up as our middle counties.

We must learn to divide the labor of our population, if we would thrive. Let every species of business which will pay, in the State, be followed by just enough people to make it profitable.

A SHARP REMEDY.

Gen. Ord's order, announcing his purpose to have all able-bodied negroes, who do not labor for a livelihood during the coming year, within the limits of his military command, arrested as vagrants, has been designated as a sharp remedy. It is so, but it is none the less proper and necessary. It might have been applied, with good results, long since, not only in Mississippi, but in other States of the South. The Freedmen's Bureau has supported thousands of negroes in idleness, and thereby encouraged the idea, so generally prevalent among them that freedom implied immunity from work, and that the Government would feed and clothe "its wards" in the present, and give them, probably, "land and a mule," after awhile. The order of Gen. Ord will arouse many of them to a sense of their danger and of the consequences of this blind and stupid credulity.

The Radicals and the Union Leagues have done the negro an injury, for which he will have cause to curse them for all time to come. By holding out false and delusive promises to the race, for purposes of personal gain and party greed,—by filling their heads with politics and inducing them to consume time, which should have been devoted to labor for the support of themselves and families, in attending political gatherings and listening to incendiary harangues—they have inflicted incalculable harm upon them. It has brought them to a condition, which has necessitated Gen. Ord's vagrant act, and which will lead to similar measures elsewhere.

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.—A correspondent of the National Intelligencer thus puts the case in a (Radical) nut-shell, with regard to the continuance of this institution:

"It has heretofore been claimed that this Bureau was necessary to secure to the freedmen their rights, which it was supposed they could not obtain through the civil courts of the South. Since the organization of this Bureau, however, the reconstruction laws of Congress have given the most ample control of the civil courts to the district commanders for the purpose of protecting all in their rights of person and property, and to continue the Bureau any longer would be to place the district commanders in the same category with the civil courts and juries of the South; it would be virtually admitting that the district commanders are indisposed, or incompetent, or powerless to afford the freedmen that protection which the Bureau is supposed to give them."

By the way, we learn of no one, now-a-days, who is in favor of the continuance of the Bureau, except those who expect to make something thereby. Even the Virginia Convention has turned its back upon the concern.

THE STATE "CONVENTION."—So far as we have been able to learn, no intimation has been given as to the probable time of the assembling of the State Constitutional (so-called) Convention. The returns must have all reached Gen. Canby, some time since. We are at a loss to account for his delay in convoking the illustrious body, which is to shed such imperishable lustre upon the name of North Carolina.

EXTERNAL AND INTERNAL COMMOTIONS.

The calm and quiet of our National unity, which so long remained undisturbed, unobtrusively gathered and concentrated the elements of convulsion and discord for thirty years, which at length broke forth with fury, nearly engulphing the government.—The shaking of the nation has been tremendous, yet, amidst the perturbation of the elements, the laws of nature seem to have been tardy in their operation, having produced little or no purification in the political atmosphere. There are, it is true, strong signs of re-action among the great body of the people. The innate love of the Union, of the principles of the Constitution, and of a common brotherhood, are stirring the deep foundations of the heart of the American people, and they are coming to the rescue of their down trodden brethren of the South. Yet the political atmosphere is still full of the worst elements. Crime is rampant. Extravagance, peculation and fraud, fill the land. Radicalism reads its doom, but will die hard.

Disorder and commotion disturb nearly all nations, while the physical world seems to be equally disquieted. Never before, in the same space of time, has there been such a record of violent tornados, earthquakes and ruin. Vesuvius has not for centuries been so disturbed. The glare of the present eruption lights the whole bay of Naples. The lava is covering a large extent of country and the inhabitants are fleeing.

There is one solace amid all this confusion and threatening. Physical and political convulsion may become even more terrible, yet God, the Omnipotent, the All-wise, the All just, the All good, still reigns! Crime, fraud, injustice may ravage the world, but the "Judge of all the earth will do right."

WHAT A PRACTICAL MAN SAYS.—Senator Sprague, of Rhode Island, who is a large manufacturer as well as a large cotton planter, delivered a speech on Friday last, before the adjournment of Congress for the holidays, on the repeal of the cotton tax, in which he made the startling statement that the British manufacturers are now able, by their skilled labor and machinery, to produce from the short and dry staple of India cotton a product equal to that from the American staple. He says that at this day Egyptian cotton was used in seven-eighths of the articles in which Sea Island cotton was formerly employed, and that he believed in two years this latter article would only be produced as a rare plant in some gentleman's garden. The plantations of the South he did not consider worth one-twentieth part of their value before the war.—Mr. Sprague told the Senate that he not only apprehended we had lost the great cotton interest forever, but that he even feared the competition of India cotton in American markets. These are not the statements of a congressional declaimer, but of a practical man. Truths like these ought to rouse the industrial classes of the country, and bring them to decide whether this destruction of cotton, commerce and manufactures, on a legitimate basis, is not a higher price than they are able to pay for the perpetuation of radical power.

CHASE FOR PRESIDENT.—We observe a poster on the streets, calling for a Radical meeting at the Court House, this evening, for the purpose of nominating Hon. S. P. Chase for the Presidency,—"subject to the decision of the National 'Republican' Convention." What about Grant? Hadn't these men better wait until they are "in the Union," and "entitled" to representation in the Chicago Convention, before they attempt to dictate to the North who shall be the nominee?

A RUINED PEOPLE.—The editor of the Georgia Citizen, who has recently made a trip to Southwestern Georgia, says: 'From all that we can gather, in a late trip Southward, the most deplorable state of destitution and prospective bankruptcy stares the people in the face. Planters generally are unable to pay expenses, and the merchants will not be able to meet their liabilities. The smallest amounts cannot be collected from parties who have been accustomed to the luxuries of life, and we predict more suffering and distress the ensuing winter and spring among the poorer classes than ever before witnessed in this section. As to the colored race the prospect is still more gloomy; thousands will be thrown out of employment; while other thousands will not work if they can get work to do. They prefer to live some other way. What will be the end thereof, the Lord only knoweth.'

GENERAL HANCOCK'S announcement "that he will make the law the rule of his conduct" begins already to show excellent results in Louisiana, because what he "will" do, his subordinates must do. Accordingly, among the first fruits, we have an order from the "Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands," in New Orleans, announcing a complete change in the administration and operations of that hitherto almost entirely irresponsible institution. Hereafter, those operations must harmonize with the Hancock rule; they must conform to civil law; and all legal questions are to be settled by legal tribunals without military intervention. It is evident that General Hancock is the right man in the right place.—N. Y. World.

REMOVAL OF GENERAL POPE.—The President has positively decided to remove General Pope from command of the Third Military District. The official order will not be issued for a few days, or until his successor has been determined on. General Meade was telegraphed for yesterday, and was in conference with Mr. Johnson to-day, but it has not been decided to name him. It will probably be either Meade or Thomas. This intelligence is derived from an official quarter.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Herald.

A TRUE PICTURE OF THE RADICALS.—Mr Foote, in his letter to the Tennessee Legislature, quotes the elder Adams as saying of a revolutionary party that it "seemed to have wrought an entire metamorphosis of the human character. It destroyed all sense and understanding; all equity and humanity; all memory and regard to truth; all virtue, honor, decorum, and veracity."

If that isn't a good description of the Radical party of the present day, then we are no judge of such things.

General Sherman has received as a present the silver bull's eye watch carried by the Roger Sherman who signed the Declaration of Independence.

THE COST OF NEGRO GOVERNMENT.

The following are the items in the second deficiency bill now before Congress:

For reconstruction expenses in the First Military District	$ 50,000
Reconstruction expenses in the Second Military District	110,000
Reconstruction expenses in the Third Military District	97,000
Reconstruction expenses in the Fourth Military District	150,000
Reconstruction expenses in the Fifth Military District	250,000
Making in all the sum	$657,000

This in addition to $1,500,000 appropriated already, thus making in all $2,157,000 only for the expenses of election in ten negro States.

The following items were also in this second deficiency bill:

To supply deficiencies in the Quartermaster's Department for the year ending June 30, 1868, to wit:

For regular supplies	$ 350,000
For incidental expenses	750,000
For purchasing cavalry and artillery horses	400,000
For transportation of army	7,350,000
Making in all the sum of	$12,000,000
There are other items, making the whole bill	$12,667,000

A large portion of the Quartermaster's deficiencies is for army transportation; $9,350,000 (deficiency, mark,) is for supporting and paying white and negro troops to keep the whites of the South in subjection to the negro.

General Howard, the head of the Freedman's Bureau, has reported on hand, and asked for additional appropriations, as follows:

On hand	$6,513,965 55
Additional asked	3,836,800 00
Total	$10,350,765 55

And here are some of his items of expenditures, as he presented them in detail:

Salaries of Assistant Commissioners, Sub-Assistants, and Agents	$147,000
Salaries of Clerks	82,700
Stationery and Printing	75,000
Quarters and Fuel	200,000
Subsistence stores	1,500,000
Medical Department	500,000
Transportation	800,000
School Superintendents	25,000
Buildings for Schools and Asylums	500,000
Telegraphing and Postage	18,000

Besides and beyond all this are innumerable expenses. Not only are the people of the South being heavily taxed to support the negro Conventions and governments, but the $130,000,000 estimated for the army is to be largely spent in forcing military governments upon the Southern States.

The Freedmen's Bureau, says the New York Express, are nothing but electioneering bureaus of Northern Jacobins to govern the South,—and we, blockhead Northern people, pay double the price we ought to pay for sugar, teas, and all others articles of consumption, just to keep them up!—Nat. Intelligencer.

THE FRESH AND GRAND ERUPTION OF VESUVIUS.

Telegrams by the Atlantic cable inform us that the recent fresh eruption of Vesuvius is continually increasing in power and splendor. No such eruption has occurred, probably, for centuries. Many people in the neighborhood of the volcano had left their homes, fearing an earthquake or some other terrible calamity. It is evident from the simultaneous volcanic action in this and other old craters at different parts of the globe, as well as from the vast area of the subterranean disturbance of the earth's crust, that there is some extraordinary cause at work. Yet these earthquakes and eruptions, which certainly have a connection, however remote one may be from the other, seem to recur at certain periods in time.—Science has not yet fully explained this extraordinary phenomenon.

Why does the earth sleep for ages, and then suddenly tremble from the poles to the equator and spout forth its hidden fires?—We measure the motions and times of the heavenly bodies so accurately that we can tell for ages to come when an eclipse or other astronomical event will take place; but have not discovered either the periodical or spasmodic causes of earthquakes and volcanic eruptions. We know in general that they arise from the force of pent up gasses or matter in the bowels of the earth, or, perhaps, also, from the contraction of the earth's crust in consequence of its cooling; but why they occur at one time and not at another, and what effect meteoric or atmospheric changes may have, we have not yet learned. We seem to be just now passing through one of those extraordinary periods of disturbance which comes only at long intervals of time.

DEPLORABLE CONDITION OF AFFAIRS IN ARKANSAS.—The following petition, signed by about fifty leading men, was recently presented to Gen. Ord:

"The petition of the undersigned citizens, Grand Jurors, Judges, and other officials of the county of Chicot, in the State of Arkansas, respectfully showeth that the colored population of said county is largely disproportioned to the white population, constituting nine-tenths of the whole; that the result of the present year's operations is the failure of the freedmen to make provisions to feed them and their families until the first of January next, and the utter ruin of the planting interest; not one in ten of our planters will be able again to renew planting as formerly, and cannot feed or employ the freedmen and their families, now depending upon them for a support; that the freedmen, as a general thing, throughout the country, are already depredating upon our stock, and the agent of the Freedmen's Bureau is unable to prevent their depredations, and by the first of February we believe that they will nearly have consumed all of our stock, unless some means can be devised for supplying their wants. Your petitioners further show that a collision between the races is apprehended as the result of their depredations on stock and other property, a contingency which your petitioners earnestly desire to avoid. In consideration of the foregoing, your petitioners earnestly request that you will order a company of troops under an efficient officer, to our county, for the protection of our families and property, and that you will use your official influence to procure necessary food for destitute colored families in our county, and that you will give us all the aid within your power towards obviating the troubles anticipated."

A cable telegram of last night informs us that the eruption of Vesuvius, which began November 14, has increased from day to day till it has now become a spectacle of sublimity, yet terror, such as Vesuvius even has not presented probably for centuries. By singular coincidence the eruption began on the day of the meteoric showers, and we have duly chronicled the earthquakes and tornadoes which followed in terrible procession. What do these things, "coming all at once," portend? About the same time the Democrats swept this State with a hurricane of fifty thousand majority. Is Dr. Cummings right, after all, and is the world coming to an end? or is it only the death of the Radical party? If the latter, there has been a very great fuss over a very small matter. Parturiunt montes, nascetur ridiculus mus.—N. Y. World.

The Maine shipyards are nearly all idle. The policy adopted by the government discourages home industry as applicable to ship-building, and everything else.

THE CASE OF COL. McARDLE, OF MISSISSIPPI—THE CONSTITUTIONALITY OF THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW TO COME BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT.

A case is soon to come before the Supreme Court here that will decide as to the constitutionality of the reconstruction law. It is that of Col. McArdle, an editor of Natchez, Miss., who, in his paper, recently indulged in some plain comments upon the practical working of the military governments. He designated General Ord as a military satrap, intimating that he would have to enforce his measures at the point of the bayonet, and that the people would not submit to his making a Poland of Mississippi. He was arrested by order of General Ord, but before he could be tried by military commission a writ of habeas corpus was sued out, and on an examination before Judge Hill, of the United States District Court of Mississippi, he held that the law was constitutional and remanded the prisoner to custody, fixing his bail at $1,000.—The case is now to be sent here on a writ of error, with all the proofs and papers bearing upon it. The hearing before Chief Justice Chase and his associates will excite extraordinary interest, from the fact that it will be the first case that has come before this court involving the constitutionality of the reconstruction laws. It is expected that the necessary documents will be here with very little delay, and that the case will be taken up out of its order.—Dispatch to N. Y. Herald.

BEECHER ON BABIES.—Henry Ward Beecher confesses to the sin of covetousness. He says he cannot repress the desire to steal babies. The reverend gentleman is not man enough to possess one of his own. Hence his desire to steal one.

There is strong reason to apprehend that Texas will soon cease to be a stock-raising State. Every negro in the country is stated to be heavily armed with guns and pistols, as well as with knives, and cattle are wantonly shot down, whilst there is no refuge whatever for hogs and poultry.

The improvements consist of an excellent Saw Mill, with thirty-six inch circular saw, run by a Jonvals Turbine Wheel, which, for beauty of work and quickness of cutting, is unsurpassed. There is also a tram road from the Mill to the Railroad, where there is a turnout. Also a Grist Mill, which will grind 60 bushels of corn per day. Also a Store and Office, a Blacksmith Shop, and four houses for operatives, and beautifully situated on a hill, containing eight rooms, to which are attached all necessary out-houses and Stables, with two Gardens, one of which contains one of the largest and finest Scuppernong Arbors in the State.

OUR PROSPECTUS FOR 1868.—We invite the attention of our friends, and of the public, to our Prospectus for the ensuing year, which will be found in another column. It will be observed that we have reduced our rates so as to put some one of our issues within the reach of all classes of the community.

We shall spare no effort to make the Sentinel more acceptable than ever, and we appeal to our friends to assist us actively in its circulation.

The events transpiring in the country, and the important developements before us, are such as to render an independent and enterprising newspaper indispensable to every intelligent citizen. And it earnestly behooves the Conservatives of North Carolina to sustain those papers that are fighting their battles against the mad and ruinous designs of the Radical destructionists.

THE JAPS.—The exhibition of the celebrated Mikado Japanese Troupe, at Tucker Hall, last evening, was attended by a very large and select audience. The performance was of a very wonderful character, and some of the astonishing feats almost defied the evidence of the senses. It is seldom that the public have an opportunity of witnessing so unique and remarkable an entertainment. The exhibition will be repeated to-night, and it is certainly well worth seeing.

There will also be a Matinee this afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The managers have generously invited the pupils of the Deaf and Dumb Institution to be present.

NEWSPAPERIAL.—We have heretofore omitted to mention the fact that the Progress, of this City, has been discontinued.

Messrs. Mills & Hughes propose to commence, on the first day of January, 1868, the publication of the Daily Advertiser, devoted mainly to "commerce, business and news." These gentlemen have the energy and capacity to get up a "live" paper, and we wish them success.

BUSINESS CHANGES.—Messrs. Pulliam, Jones & Co., in the course of a few days, will move into their fine and large new brick store, next door to the National Bank.

Douglass Bell, Family Grocer, Market Square, will leave, on the 1st. of January, his present stand, and occupy the eligible and commodious building now being vacated by B. P. Williamson & Co,

H. T. Clawson, House and Sign Painter, Gilder, Upholsterer, &c., will occupy, the next year, the store on Fayetteville Street, belonging to C. B. Root, Esq., and now tenanted by Jacob Wei, Clothier.

The Sentinel will move, on the 1st. prox., to the old Register buildings, near the Court House.

If there be any other "changes of base" contemplated, we will take pleasure, upon being notified, in giving publicity to the fact.

A RALEIGH-IAN IN MEMPHIS.—The Memphis Bulletin, of the 19th, pays a handsome compliment to A. M. Lewis, Esq., formerly of this city. In noting the proceedings of the "Law Court" of the day previous, it says:

"The case of Cameron vs. Ware is still in the hands of the jury. The handling of the case did great credit to the attorneys on both sides. The argument of Col. A. M. Lewis is especially commended. The Memphis bar has a valuable acquisition in our friend from North Carolina."

We have since seen it stated that the jury rendered a verdict for $3,000 damages for the plaintiff, Mr. Lewis' client.

A TEACHER WANTED.—A friend at Columbia, Tyrrel Co., requests us to recommend a competent Male teacher, to take charge of the Academy at Columbia. A stated and liberal salary will be paid. The applicant must be well qualified to prepare young men for College, and possess the moral qualifications for the position. If this should meet the eye of such a person, we would be glad to put him in communication with the proper persons to secure the place.

A COLORED DELEGATE VISITS GRANT—HE IS INVITED TO "TALK HORSE" AND DECLINES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1, 1867.

General Grant had a novel sort of an applicant for admittance to his presence this morning. About half-past ten o'clock a respectable looking sable citizen made his appearance and asked to have an interview with the General of the Armies. He was told that he must send in his name whereupon the colored citizen sat down and indicated a letter to General Grant, in which he explained that he was a representative of his African brethren of the South, and came on their part to discover Grant's views on the topics of the day, and more especly regarding the rights of the negro. The letter was taken to General Grant who sent back as answer that he was a military officer, and did not desire any conversation on political topics. The colored delegate, however, refused to be snubbed in this way, and stered into an argument with General Dent on the subject. He told Dent he wanted merely to take back with him some comforting assurance that Grant was the friend of the negroes and that he deserved their support. Dent informed him that when Senator Wade called on Grant the conversation was devoted mainly to horses and not to politics. The colored citizen said that he did not want to talk horses—that he took an interest in that subject, but in others of more use to general humanity and great political rights. Dent, however, was almost reticent on these matters as Grant himself and so the African delegate, after repeated efforts at pumping, retired disappointed.

The reckless radical fanatics, in all their schemes looking to a political negro balance of power for mere party purposes, have been sowing the wind, and they will reap the whirlwind. General destitution and threatened disorders of violence and blood in the South; general stagnation, depression and distrust in the North; oppressive taxation, resulting in still decreasing receipts to the Treasury from still increasing revenue frauds and corruptions, are firing up the public mind to the white heat of a great political revolution. It is coming, and in the face of the overwhelming issue at stake the mere name and fame of this man, that man or the other will be utterly eclipsed in the Presidential agitation. Grant, Hancock, Chase, Seymour, Pendleton, Vallandigham, Fernando Wood, and all other Presidential candidates, will be subordinated to the great issues which are destined in 1868, as in 1860, to sweep over the country like a tornado. This radical Congress has been and is hurrying the country headlong down the road to destruction. It is leading us rapidly towards bankruptcy, revulsion, repudiation and chaos; but there is still the last resort of the people. From the deplorable state of the country and from all the signs of the times we expect from the people nothing short of a sweeping political revolution in our national elections of 1868, from Maine to California.—N. Y. Herald.

The Radical students in the Wesleyan University of Ohio have invited Wendell Phillips, Fred. Douglass and others of that stamp to orate before them; the Democratic members have secured Vallandigham, to give a variety.

Wanted for the "State Convention" two dozen school marms to improve the orthography, syntax, prosody, and pronunciation of its members.—Lynchburg Virginian.

The National Democratic Resident Committee at Washington met on Monday night last, in that city, to make preparations for a vigorous prosecution of the political campaign in advance of the regular Convention.

POPE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27, M.

Undoubtedly, Pope's and Swayne's conduct is highly disapproved at the White House; but no action has yet been taken for their removal. The Executive policy is to avoid irritation, if possible, which may tend to hold the republican factions together, and enable them to pass more stringent supplements to the reconstruction laws. An immediate change in the third District is by no means certain.

Life Insurance continues to occupy the most serious consideration of the heads of families, who, by the casualties of war, short crops and short price of Cotton, have been deprived of the support they relied upon, in case of death for their dependents; and the question with them is, "Which is the CHEAPEST, SAFEST, EARLIEST, MOST ECONOMICAL and RELIABLE COMPANY represented in North Carolina?" I unhesitatingly assure them that I have indisputable evidence that the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE Co. is, without doubt, prepared to prove, from the most trustworthy and authentic official reports, that she has a larger amount of assets than all other Companies in this State combined; that for eighteen years she has declared an average of fifty per cent dividend; for thirteen years her interest on investment has exceeded her losses; and her vast business is conducted at a much less expense.

All she makes is shared by the assured. No Stockholder receives the lion's share of the profits, and no Company pays its losses more promptly. Last year (1866) she paid to widows and orphans upwards of a Million of Dollars. Therefore, apply at once to P. F. PESCUD, Agt.,

LIFE INSURANCE.

(From the Insurance Monitor and Wall street Review, New York.)

A Well-deserved Success.—The Equitable Life Insurance Company.

The approaching demolition of seven buildings, consisting of that almost immemorial landmark "Old Guerrin's," the less ancient "Herald" office, and the present office-building of the American Express Company, on the fashionable corner of Broadway and Cedar street, together with three adjoining buildings on the latter street, to make room for that modern insurance giant, the Equitable Life. These seven buildings are all to be replaced by one, six stories in height, including basement, and having a frontage of 95 feet 9 inches on Broadway, and one hundred and thirty-seven feet four inches on Cedar street. A number of the first architects in the country are employed in perfecting the plans for the structure, so as to unite it in style, accommodation, and convenience, superior to any other building of the kind yet erected.

The building will, however, not only be made to accommodate the Company, but no question that the rental of such part as is not occupied by them will return an interest on the investment. The magnitude and surpassing growth of the Equitable Life not only justify this solid investment, but render it both expedient and necessary. Although this Company has been only eight years in business, its policies issued during the eighth year covered an insurance amounting to over thirty-five millions of dollars. The total sums assured by it up to the present date approaches 100 000,000; its accumulations have run up to 5,000,000; its annual income to three millions, and will in the coming year doubtless expand to five million dollars.

For this rapid increase and substantial success there are abundant and most satisfactory reasons. They are found in the numerous solid advantages the Company affords. In the fact that it is purely mutual, and that all its profits go to the benefit, on the first of February, every year, of which time a large dividend has been regularly paid, amounting last year to six hundred per cent. of premium dollars. Its mode of applying dividends so as to accommodate them to the circumstances of the policy holders, is unequalled for the variety of the advantages it offers.

The Equitable has been enabled to deal thus liberally with its insured in consequence of the prosperity of

DAILY SENTINEL.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1867.

THE OLD ALBUM.

My album! it is sad to think
That thirty years have come and vanished,
Since Willie wrote in India ink
On its first page a name now banished:

My maiden name—for Will and I
Soon after joined our hands together,
And in each other's company
Have spent blest every sort of weather.

I've hunted out this poor old book
To please a child's pictorial fancies;
"Come, Alice, let us have a look"—
She is not mine, but daughter Nancy's.

And while you haste from page to page,
With eager eye and restless finger,
I'll rather choose, as suits my age,
Round some old memories to linger.

Here are the lines that Willie wrote
When he proposed, and I accepted;
Here's Mr. Jones's farewell note,
In verse—half humorous, half dejected.

A valentine—when Will was winning
His suit—all laced, and flowered, and darts!
Jones' sarcastic lines, beginning:
"Fanny is fair, but flinty-hearted."

Ah me! as in thy glass I scan
This wrinkling brow, these silvering tresses,
I scarcely can believe poor Dan
Once turned such passionate addresses.

Here in our church in colored chalk,
A wreath of sea-weed brought from Dover!
Poor Poll!—how well she used to talk!
Sketched, cage and all, by my first lover.

Pet pieces out of sundry birds—
Byron and Moore were then the fashion—
Stanzas on perforated cards,
Expressive of the tender passion.

These last are full of "eyes" and "sighs,"
No lover's prattle could be sweeter;
The pentameter deserves a prize,
'Tis often better than the meter.

"Here is a pretty lady, gran,
But, oh, what funny sleeves!" cries Alice.
"That was my poor, dear sister Anne,
Taken when leaving school at Calais."

Alice next lays her finger on
A handsome boy in sailor jacket;
I've not the heart to tell her John
Was drowned in the West India packet.

Nor need I say that brother Tom,
Whose scarlet coat sets Alice staring,
Died by the bursting of a bomb,
In some forgotten deed of daring.

My first-born! Then I saw thee lie
In death—shall Alice think thee sleeping?
Or shall I tell her babes can die?
Sweet Willie, I am almost weeping.

Though nearly thirty years have flown,
See, on his breast a bunch of lilies;
This lock of hair was Willie's own,
Such golden, silken hair was Willie's.

"O, grandmamma, just then there fell
Upon the page two drops of water;
Where could they come from?" Shall I tell?
"We'll shut the book, my daughter's daughter."

[Gassell's Magazine.

THE VOICES OF THE DEAD.

I have seen one die—the delight of his friends, the pride of his kindred, the hope of his country; but he died! How beautiful was that offering upon the altar of death! The fire of genius kindled in his eye; the generous affections of youth mantled on his cheek; his foot was upon the threshold of life; his studies, his preparations for honored and useful life, were completed; his breast was filled with a thousand glowing, and noble, and never yet expressed aspirations; but he died! He died; while another, of a nature dull, coarse, and unrefined, of habits low, base and brutish, of a promise that had nothing in it but shame and misery—such as one, I say, was suffered to encumber the earth. Could this be, if there were no other sphere for the gifted, the aspiring, and the approved, to act in? Can we believe that the energy just trained for action, the embryo thought just bursting into expression, the deep and earnest passion of a noble nature, just swelling into the expansion of every beautiful virtue, should never manifest its power, should never speak, should never unfold itself! Can we believe that all this should die; while meanness, corruption, sensuality, and every deformed and dishonoured power, should live? No, ye goodly and glorious ones! ye die not in vain; ye teach, ye assure us, that ye are gone to some world of nobler life and action.

I have seen one die; she was beautiful; and beautiful were the ministries of life that were given her to fulfil. Angelic loveliness enrobed her; and a grace, as if it were caught from heaven, breathed in every tone, hallowed every affection, shone in every action—invested as a halo her whole existence, and made it a light and blessing, a charm and a vision of gladness, to all around her: but she died! Friendship, and love, and parental fondness, and infant weakness, stretched out their hand to save her; but they could not save her; and she died! What! did all that loveliness die! Is there no land of the blessed and lovely ones, for such to live in? Forbid it reason, religion! —bereaved affection, and undying love! forbid the thought! It cannot be that such die in God's counsel, who live even in frail human memory, forever!

I have seen one die—in the maturity of every power, in the earthly perfection of every faculty: when many temptations had been overcome, and many hard lessons had been learned: when many experiments had made virtue easy, and had given a facility to action, and a success to endeavour; when wisdom had been learnt from many mistakes, and a skill had been laboriously acquired in the use of many powers: and the being, I looked upon, had just compassed that most useful, most practical of all knowledge, how to live, and to act well and wisely; yet I have seen such an one die! Was all this treasure gained, only to be lost? Were all these faculties trained, only to be thrown into utter disuse? Was this instrument—the intelligent soul, the noblest in the universe—was it so laboriously fashioned, and by the most varied and expensive apparatus, that, on the very moment of being finished, it should be cast away forever! No, the dead, as we call them, do not die. They carry our thoughts to another and a nobler existence. They teach us, and especially by all the strange and seemingly untoward circumstances of their departure from this life, that they and we shall live forever. They open the future world, then, to our faith.

They open it also, and in fine, to our affections. No person of reflection and piety can have lived long, without beginning to find, in regard to the earthly objects that most interest him—his friends—that the balance is gradually inclining in favor of another world. How many, after the middle period of life, and especially in declining years, must feel—if the experience of life has had any just effect upon them—that the objects of their strongest attachment are not here. One by one, the ties of earthly affection are cut asunder; one by one, friends, companions, children, parents, are taken from us; for a time, perhaps, we are "in a strait betwixt two," as was the apostle, not deciding altogether whether it is better to depart; but shall we not, at length, say with the disciples, when some dearer friend is taken, "let us go and die with him!"

The dead have not ceased their communication with us, though the visible chain is broken. If they are still the same they must still think of us. As two friends on earth may know that they love each other, without any expression, without even the sight of each other; as they may know, though dwelling in different and distant countries, without any visible chain of communication, that their thoughts mingle together, so may it be with two friends of whom the one is on earth, and the other in heaven. Especially where there is such an union of pure minds that it is scarcely possible to conceive of separation; that union seems to be a part of their very being; we may believe that their friendship, their mutual sympathy, is beyond the power of the grave to break up. "But ah!" we say, "if there were only some manifestation; if there were only a glimpse of that blessed land; if there were, indeed, some messenger bird, such as is supposed in some countries, to come from the spirit land, how eagerly should we question it!" In the words of the poet, we should say,

"But tell us, thou bird of the solemn strain,
Can those who have loved, forget?
We call—but they answer not again—
Do they love, do they love us yet?
We call them far, through the silent night,
And they speak not from cave nor hill;
We know, we know, that their land is bright,
But say, do they love there still?"

The poetic doubt, we may answer with plain reasoning, and plainer scripture. We may say, in the language of reason, if they live there, they love there. We may answer in the language of Jesus Christ, "he that liveth and believeth in me, shall never die." And again, "have ye not read," saith our Saviour, "that which was spoken unto you by God, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living." Then is it true, that they live there; and they yet speak to us. From that bright sphere, from that calm region, from the bowers of life immortal, they speak to us. They say to us, "sigh not in despair over the broken and defeated expectations of earth. Sorrow not as those who have no hope. Bear, calmly and cheerfully, thy lot. Brighten the chain of love, of sympathy—of communion with all pure minds, on earth, and in heaven. Think, oh! think of the mighty and glorious company that fill the immortal regions. Light, life, beauty, beatitude, are here. Come, children of earth! come to the bright and blessed land!" We will go and die with them. We will go and live with them forever!

HAS PAID ANOTHER LOSS IN THIS DEPARTMENT ON THE 7TH NOV., 1867, to the widow of the late Castine Doscher, of Wilmington, N. C. Policy No. 28,650, for $5,000. This Company has done more in the last two years for the citizens of the State than any other Company.

DIED IN 1866 AND 1867, AND POLICIES PAID AT THE OFFICE IN RALEIGH:

Justice Kinsey, of Raleigh,	$ 5,000
J. E. Weeks, Elizabeth City,	5,000
T. J. Garner, Weldon,	3,000
S. B. Turnage, Kinston,	10,000
J. F. Sanders, Smithfield,	5,000
Castine Doscher, Wilmington,	5,000

A very serious question for a Husband and Father to ask himself, is, Should I be taken away to-morrow, would my family be provided for as I wish them to be? The Ætna Company is one of the solid institutions of this country and by taking a Life Policy you provide a certainty. That which has made this Company such a favorite and so popular, is the low rate and prompt payment of all demands.
